

HUMANITARIAN AND DISASTER LEADERSHIP, M.A.

Director, Kent Annan

Humanitarian and Disaster Leadership offers training and preparation for employment in a wide range of humanitarian and disaster-assistance related fields, both domestically and internationally. Students of the program will be equipped to lead by integrating faith, evidence-based practice, and experience to serve the world's most vulnerable people and the global church. The program is designed for students looking to begin or to advance their career in the fields of international humanitarian aid, domestic disaster relief, emergency management, disaster ministry, anti-human trafficking, non-profit, justice, and refugee care. The program may also be used as preparation for future doctoral studies. Accelerated M.A. students can start taking HDL graduate courses after completing 60 undergraduate credits. HDL graduate level courses can apply to undergraduate degree requirements (with approval) and will count towards the HDL M.A. should they matriculate in the accelerated M.A. Program.

Requirements

Requirements for the Humanitarian and Disaster Leadership program leading to a Master of Arts degree consists of the successful completion of 36 semester hours.

Code	Title	Credits
Degree Requirements		28
HDI 504	Foundations of Humanitarian and Disaster Leadership
HDI 544	Organizing Emergency Humanitarian Assistance
HDI 564	Disaster Management
HDI 574	NGO Leadership
HDI 584	Anti-Human Trafficking and Gender-Based Violence
HDI 594	Monitoring, Evaluation, and Program Design
HDI 624	Refugee and Forced Migration Issues
HDI 654	Disaster, Crisis, & Trauma Intervention
HDI 687	Vocation and Professional Development
HDI 697	Crisis Leadership in Action
Biblical and Theological Studies Requirement		8
Select one approved 4-credit BITH (TSR) course from the approved category list
HDI 614	Transformational Development
Total Credits		36